TOP Gear is back for more petrol-fueled fun in its 27th series - and it wouldn't be complete without the show's legendary theme tune. But, what catchy track is actually called and who is the mastermind behind it? Here's what we know, a familiar song... The theme of the Top Gear tune has become iconicCredit: PA:Press Association Top Gear theme song Jessica on the Allman Brothers Band. Jessica, a seven-minute instrumental album by Brothers and Sisters, was released in 1973. It was written by guitarist Dickie Betts as a tribute to gypsy jazz guitarist Django Reinhardt, and it was designed to play using only two fingers on his left hand, Top Gear originally used part of the original recording, but has since recorded its own version. Jessica is also used for most international versions of Top Gear, including the American version, which used it as her theme only during the first season. The melody was also featured in the films Field of Dreams, Have You Heard of Morgana?, Fear and Lassie. Is it illegal for someone to park on your driveway or in front of your house? They were formed in Jacksonville, Florida, USA, in 1969 by brothers Dwayne Allman, Gregg Allman, Dickie Betts, Berry Oakley, Butch Trucks and Jay Johanley Jaimoe Johanson. The band included elements of Southern rock, blues, jazz and country music, and their concerts included improvisation and jam band instrumentals. The group was active in 1969-1976, 1978-1982 and 1989-2014. Series 26 Of Top Gear saw its stars driving a series of fast carsCredit: BBC When was Top Gear back? Traditionally, the BBC releases one series a year, with the latest Top Gear - season 27 - coming to our screens on 16 June at 8pm on BBC Two. It continues weekly at the same time and the same place every Sunday. Each episode lasts an hour. Series 26, however, began on February 17, while, Top Gear season 25 kicked off on March 5. The current season is the first since Matt announced that he was stepping down as host on the hit show. On October 22, 2018, it was announced that Paddy McGuinness and Andrew Freddie Flintoff would be the next hosts of Top Gear. The pair were brought in to replace the outing of Matt LeBlanc, who decided to leave the show to spend more time with his family and friends. They are joined as presenters by current presenter Chris Harris. Top Gear is BACK! Matt LeBlanc, Chris Harris and Rory Reid return with supercars, flying cars and epic adventures in the first trailer 1.
